

>: Why Just US, not enter gobal citizen?

Sunday, June 7, 2009 / Zhi Win

Christ

I may sound silly to write to you about this idea but I think why not? I have been unemployed for over one year as a dental lab manager in my hometown. I was layoff with another 6 staffs. One of them who worked there for 25 years and I could never believe that they kept the new staff and laid off the 25 years staff. It sucks.

I decide that I am not going to work for anyone anymore. Out of desperate I found your web on line and learning about options. I have just finished reading the Option Trading Simplified. I want to take action to trade options but how? Now without any funds how I am? Hmm

The reasons I wrote this suggestion to you to expand your education web to go global. I hope you can educate more people in this universe and make this cause for others. One day very soon, your name will sure exceed Mark Rosenberg.

I currently am unable to afford your course but I must keep on learning from your free web. I am thanful you have the heart to help others. This is why I wrote to you this idea. Same intention I have with yours.

I offer to create a link from your web as a Chinese language to translate tycoon daily report in Chinese (traditional) to reach 1 billion human being who read Chinese about option trading. There is 8 billion on the globe. Many are oversea around the world. I am in Hawaii. Sure you can find others to do other part of the world.

I also think that you could provide other country citizens to learn from you. This way foreign investment could pour their funds to our market or vice verse by going to your free education links web. Keep up the good deed. Blessed you and your firm properous ever.

Your Reader

Zhi Win

From Honolulu

Zhi Win